They not only levied a tax upon all vessels frequenting their port, but at last demanded contributions, considered as impious, from all those who passed through their territory in pilgrimages to Delphi. In consequence of these extortions, the Council of the Amphictyons sent to consult the Oracle: and it was decreed, that Crissa should be destroyed, and its inhabitants reduced to slavery; and that their territory should be left uncultivated, as a district sacred to Apollo, to Diana, to Latona, and to Minerva. A war ensued in consequence, which lasted ten years; when, after a long and bloody siege, the town was taken and entirely rased, and all the survivors found within its walls were sold as slaves. Crissa is mentioned by Pliny but not by Strabo: and this circumstance induced Larcher Chap. VI. to believe that the city was rebuilt within a
